VERMONT

According to the 2021 Vermont Airport Economic Assessment, airports in Vermont contribute $525 million to the state's total economic output.

Aviation by the Numbers

According to FAA data, Vermont is home to 15 public-use general aviation airports, 1,789 pilots, and 675 registered aircraft.

Number of Jobs

According to the 2021 Vermont Airport Economic Assessment, airports support more than 5,300 jobs in Vermont, resulting in $186 million in labor income.

Economic Impact

According to the same study, airports in Vermont contribute $525 million to the state's total economic output.

According to FAA data, Vermont is home to 11 repair stations, 2 FAA-approved pilot schools, 789 student pilots, and 274 flight instructors.

According to the comprehensive AC-U-KWIK directory, there are a total of 9 fixed-base operators in the state of Vermont.

According to the University Aviation Association, there is a flight department at Vermont State University (formerly Vermont Technical College) in Randolph Center.